Interview: TCM Croatia

1.) Tell us something about your chapter, for how long have you been active, what are your activities?

Well, TCM Croatia was formed in 2006, although I must say that gained most success in recruitment and activism in last few years. We mostly do propaganda work, from writting articles, publishing our magazine and website, some audio and video propaganda, translating Creator books,... We also have our music band that we are proud of, Invictus, that plays Creativity inspired rock music. Mostly our activism is based upon propaganda work, and I think we have set a ground work for future activities.

2.) Do you work with other organizations in your country?

There are no such orgs here we could work with. In fact I don't think there is any org here that promotes white racial loyalty. Sad but true.

3.) As a European, how do you implement to your circumstances some precepts that mostly apply to US when Klassen wrote them?

Not quite sure what you mean by that. Creativity is universal White Man's religion, not a regional religion. It doesn't apply to US or Europe exclusively, it applies to the whole world. Our ideas are same in US, Europe of Africa. The only difference is strategy. We have different laws here, a minimum or no free speech at all, we have to be very carefull what we say in public. Everything is more 'underground' here. Also, one difference is that Europe is still filled with nationalists who are against white cooperation. But we don't care much about them, they are destined to fall in the long run. As I've said it, major difference is lack of free speech and we have to work with that burden.

4.) Croatia has a troubled past, you are probably the only country in Europe that went through full scale war to gain freedom from communist regime. You also fought off Serbian aggression. What can you tell us about your relations with Serbia these days?

Not much to say, war has ended, there will always be some political tensions here and then, but situation is stabilized. We don't cooperate with Serbs, but we aren't making propaganda against them either. Whoever tries to harm our people will feel our wrath, not matter who we are talking about. Don't mess with us, and everything will be fine, lol. We have fought with Turks, the Ottoman empire for 500 years, and they never managed to conquer our country, while many others fell, that speaks for itself. Unfortunately we are week when it comes to preserve our nation's interests through peace and politics, like today when our country has been sold cheap to EU.

5.) What do you think of whole European Union concept?

Well, political union of European countries is not a bad thing. Europe has to be united against foreign threats. But this EU has nothing to do with Europe. They promote multiracialism, mass immigration and egalitarianism. It is completely jewish creation, the whole purpose of it is to easily control all our countries from one place through unified parliament, constitution and laws. European economy is completely devastated, all of industry has been sold to Far East, for interest of a chosen few. Pathetic.

6.) There is still a big influence of Christianity in Europe, many in nationalist circles, and I suppose in your country also. How do you plan to recruit those people to Creativity?

Majority of those people only declare themselves as Christians, but in fact are hypocrites, they know nothing of their religion. Many people say they are Christians just because of tradition, they are not real followers of that philosophy. When you think of it, that is not a problem, because we want people that think for themselves, people that do not compromise and lie to themselves. If I would declare myself a Creator and behave opposite of what Creativity teaches, I would be a hypocrite. Same with Christians. Creativity is about revolution of values and changing of our people's thinking and way of reasoning. Those who manage to do that, they are cadres for us. We don't need wide public approval, we are not heading for votes, we are not a political party, we need only activists that will devote part of their time for spreading of our creed, and thus saving our race. We are an ideological and religious movement, we do not compromise, that is where our strength is.

7.) I know you have been rather active in cooperating with other national chapters on international propagation of Creativity. What are your experiences working with other chapters?

Well, experiences are mostly positive, we mainly worked with US and Polish Chapters, and Slovakian one when it was still active. It's all about individuals, an organization is active as much as their members are. There are always certain individuals that make things go further. We need such people who are organizers and motivators for other members.

8.) What do you think of the current downfall of Creativity that lasts for a decade now? When will we fully recuperate?

Creativity really went south back then, but we are still here though. It is however very unclear to me the huge loss of members and chapters that happened. How is possible that whole national chapter, one of the largest in the world, disappears just like that? I am talking about Ruthenia section, for example. I know they were under huge pressure from ZOG, but still, you can lower your activities for a year or two, but no word for the past 8 years? Same with many others, US chapters too. Retreat, recuperate, reorganize and fight back.

Supernatural experience

I never had a "supernatural" experience so I don't bother with such thoughts. But still, if and when something like that happens, I would try to find some logical explanation for it. If there would be no explanation, we can assume it's coincidence. If it starts repeating, then we could say there's something more to it. There is also one very important thing to say - there are no supernatural things, there are only natural things that people yet can't explain because of our current level of knowledge. Pure example, few hundred years ago (or maybe more) people were unable to explain thunders and lightnings because of their inadequate knowledge, so they let imagination do its course. Today we can. Same is with everything else. We as Creators, we are not like Christians who defy science and intellectual progress. On contrary, we encourage scientific researches and elevating our level of knowledge, about both known and unknown. What is unknown will become known. What we defy is when people in lack of reasonable and scientific explanation try to explain some 'phenomenons' as they please, inventing things that have no real basic what so ever.

Supernatural experience - bullcrap. And this is why I say that. Let me tell you my story that finally came to a conclusion today. Since I was 20 or something, or maybe even adolescent, I frequently started experiencing strange phenomenon while going to bed. Few minutes after I would fall asleep in my bed, I would find myself paralyzed, but aware of myself, something between awake and asleep. I couldn't move my body and I was hearing some terrible unidentifiable noise in my ears, and feeling like something is coming for me or pulling me away. All this time I was terrified and tried to move myself to break free. This would last shortly and finally I would manage to move my body and instantly awake myself. First I thought it was just a nightmare, but it started repeating itself every few nights. And because of body paralysis and awaking myself after body moved, I realized it is not just a dream. Soon I noticed that it occurs only when I sleep on my back, in supine position, so I started to avoid sleeping that way. I was never superstitious, but again I was never able to explain it to myself, maybe it was some energy like underground water or something, so I just let it be. Years have passed and it occurred not so often any more, but it still was happening occasionally. Few years later I moved to another room in same house, and it was still happening. Few more years later I moved to another city and it happened there few times also. Once I realized that I am really awake when this happens because I left light on and was able to see my room during whole experience. Freaky, right? People started telling me it's astral projection, out-body experience, etc, etc. I mostly ignored it. I even tried to confront that "demon" that I was so afraid of when I was in that stage with noise and feeling it is coming for me - naturally, nothing came for me, there was just noise and an unpleasant feeling. Anyway, it happens rarely last few years.

Now, what is my point? This is my point http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sleep_paralysis

Today I accidentally stumbled upon an article about Sleep paralysis, and everything became clear to me after all these years.

My point is, I had a perfect example of a phenomenon that could be seen as supernatural experience by someone who is superstitious, but could also be scientifically explained. Just as I never looked for an answer all these 10 or 15 years, but I always knew there is something medical to it, and it turns out it is. There are no spooks or demons, no other realms or anything, there is only human mind and its ability to comprehend reality, and there are still many things that science will yet have to discover. For example I am sure that 100 years ago there was no scientific term or explanation for Sleep paralysis either.

There is also a question of afterlife. I really hope there isn't one. What am I supposed to do when I die? Have toasts every day? And really, no one is asking such a question, but I will ask it now - what would be the purpose of afterlife? Really, why does anyone think there might be an afterlife, and why does anyone think it would be a good thing at all? Some people ask, although I can't comprehend why they ask that, "what is the purpose of life if there is nothing after death"? I must say it is a stupid question and I don't think I need to answer it at all here. But in fact, the real question is, why did anyone ever thought of idea that there may be an afterlife, and why did anyone ever thought of it as a good idea to think that way. I really do not hope there is an afterlife, because what would be the purpose of this life if there is an afterlife? Really, there would be no purpose. Christians think of this life as a testing phase, but testing phase for what? Be good in this life to get bored in afterlife?

The beauty of life is in its transience, in living through your one time experiences from birth till death, knowing that those same experiences will never repeat as they were, so you cherish those memories, the more unique memories are, the more you cherish them. There is a beauty of being a playfull child because it will go away when you grow up, beauty of first kiss because it will always be the "first", the beauty of caring of your little baby because he will never be that little anymore, the beauty of carrying for your parents because some day they will pass away before you. The beauty of life is in its moments, moments are what fills us and what makes us happy. Eternal life would be the death of life.

WOMAN FOR ARYAN UNITY

The insane teaching of "equality"

Perhaps never in history has an idea caused so much harm, been so base, and been so untrue as the idea that all that which walks upon two legs is "equal" to one another. It has caused innumerable wars, has caused further genocide of our Race through the mongrelization with the lower races, and upon its unsound foundation, other lies have sprung which have also been calamitous. Its corrosiveness permeates every aspect of our society, resulting in a decadence that makes all healthy, natural, and perceptive men and women choke with disgust. It is an idea which is the polar opposite of the core of our own values, and it is for that reason that we wage war against it as we know that its continued adherence can only spell the death-knell of our Kind.

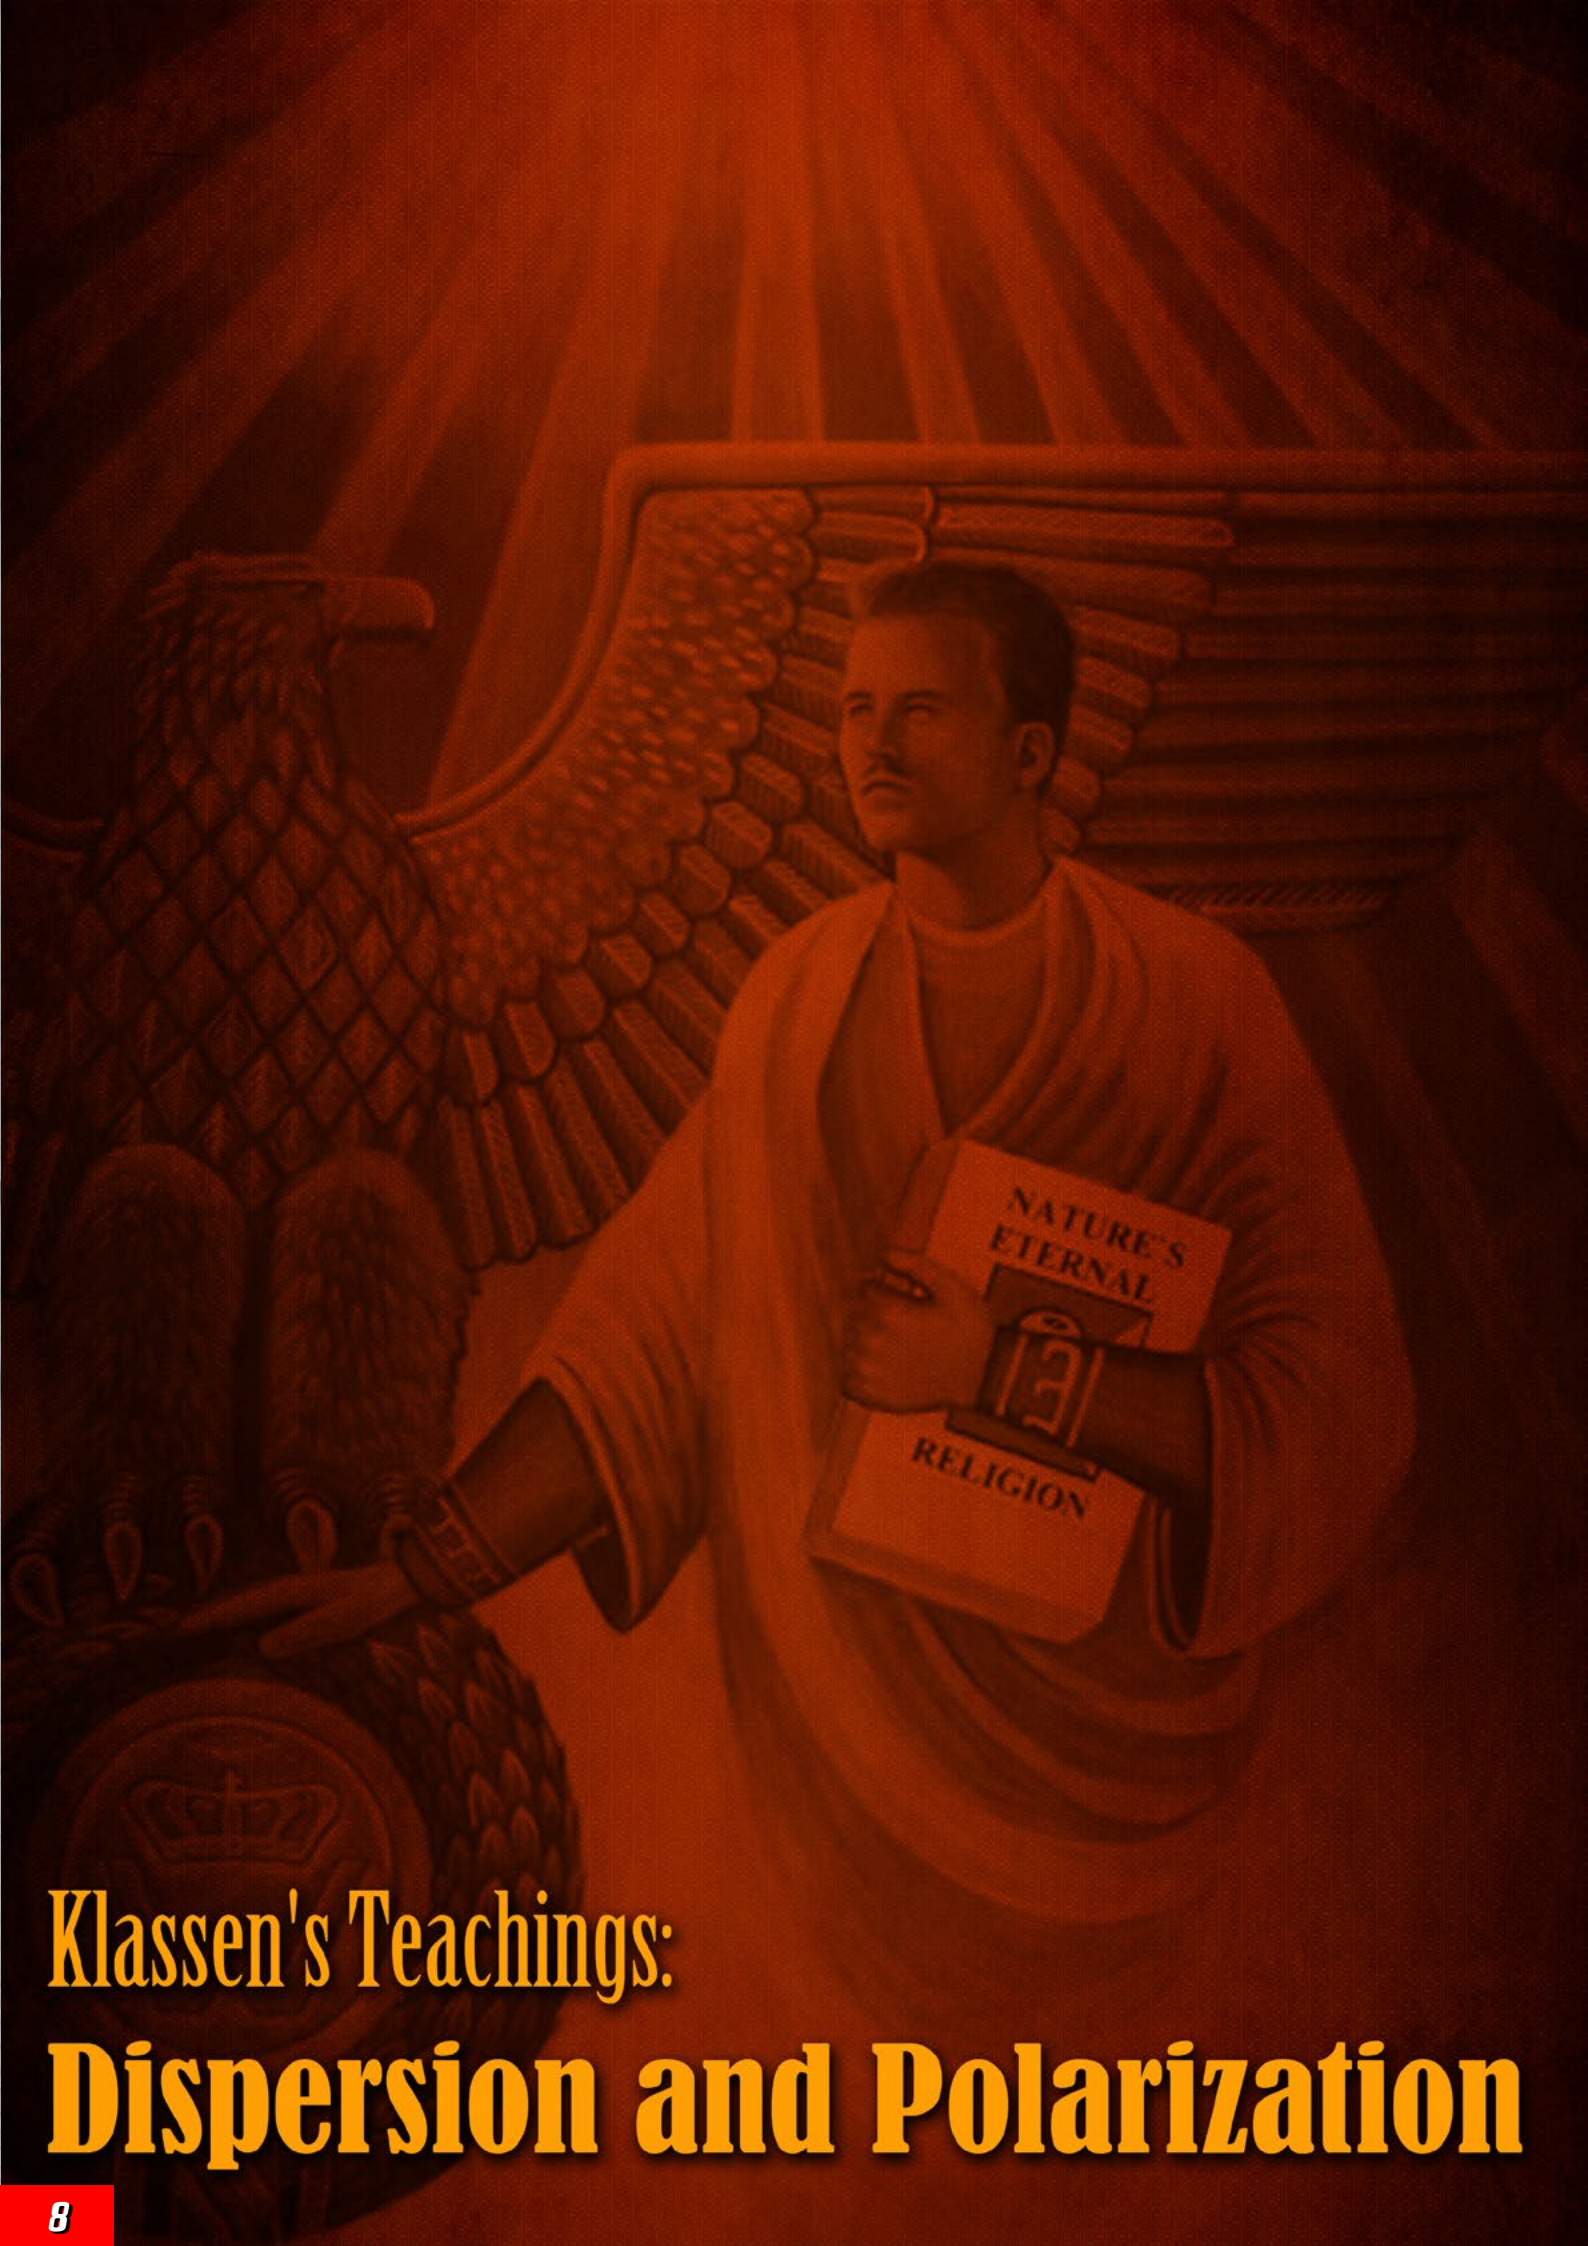

Thomas Jefferson could hardly have thought that his statement in opposition to the establishment of a nobility in America would one day be the instrument by which the inferior elements of the world would clamor for equality with their superiors. Indeed, the same man who wrote, "All men are created equal" also wrote, "Nothing is more unequal than the equal treatment of unequal people." As all learned men at that time knew (and many still know today), the races are not equal to one another. Nor are individuals within the same race equal to one another. Hierarchy between races and within races is simply the law of life, and this law patently reveals that no two things not exactly alike are "equal" to one another.

The reality is that equality is a mythology embraced either by the inferior as a way of achieving social gain, or as an opportunistic method by which politicians pander to the masses in an effort to obtain their votes. Even if the politician does not expressly state his belief in "equality", the premise of the democratic system is in fact "equality" of all--the vote of a White scientist is only, after all, "equal" to the vote of a nigger who throws a ball in a basket for a living and sadly enough, there are more of the latter-type individuals than the former. That the future of our people may be decided by such a scenario clearly reveals the poisonous nature of the equality mythology, a mythology which is far more dangerous than all other mythologies we have come to know. That Jefferson's words in the Declaration of Independence have been twisted from their original meaning is no consolation for a Race which is destroying itself in a rush to achieve "equality" with races more justly described as being halfway between Man and ape rather than "human" in any useful sense of the word. It is an idea that unless resisted, will amount to somewhat of a self-fulfilling prophecy: "equality" will be attained all right--by the former White Race becoming equally a slave and the mud races being equally mud. Indeed, race-mixing would not occur were our people not imbued with the idea of "equality" with the lower forms of life, for just as the thought of mating with an animal is repugnant to normal people, so too would the idea of mating with an individual of another race be repugnant were the minds of our people not so scrambled by the equality mythology.

All men are not equal. Let it be categorically said. Some have better attributes and are hence worth more than others. In our racial community, let a man's works be his yardstick. Let him be valued according to his works rather than be perceived as an "equal" regardless of them. Whether with his brain or with his brawn, let him prove his value to the racial community, and let those whose minds and spirit are more tailored to rule indeed be the rulers. This is the way it has always been in Nature and indeed in those societies which have followed Nature's Laws. Thus will it be again when we Creators have our day.

Those not of our Race, however, are worth less than nothing. They are not a part of our racial community. Due to their being somewhat biologically similar to us, they are our natural competitors for food, territory, and power. They are therefore our natural enemies, and as such, whatever exceptional characteristics of a few individuals within them are irrelevant. RAHOWA!

Klassen's Teachings:

Dispersion and Polarization

Imperium

We need Both for Survival

In issue No. 13 of this book (P.13) I mention briefly the need for the CREATIVITY movement to step up its efforts for both dispersion and polarization. As I explained briefly, these two terms may seem contradictory, but they are not as far as strengthening and insuring the survival of our White Racial movement is concerned. In fact, both are highly essential if we are to build a solid worldwide structure, if we are to survive and expand.

It is our determined goal to do exactly that. We are not only determined to survive, but we intend to build our movement and expand it onward to worldwide proportions. We are categorically committed to expand the CREATIVITY creed and philosophy until it becomes the universal property of all the White peoples of this Planet Earth. Not the meek, not the niggers, not the Jews, not the mud peoples, but our goal is that the White Race shall inherit the earth all of it. In order to do so we must build and grow, until Creativity embraces the support and leadership of all the White peoples on all the continents. To do so we must, first of all polarize around the creed of Creativity - the survival, expansion and advancement of the White Race. Secondly, we must have dispersion of organizational units - nuclei of organizational activity scattered all over the world, tens of thousands of them.

In order to understand this seeming contradiction best, all we need to do is study the long and turbulent history of the Jewish race. Since this miserable but tenacious race has survived in an unbroken continuity for a longer time span than any other race, religion or nation, we would do well to study their history for the underlying characteristics that have enabled them to do so.

We Creators have done just that, and more. We have not only studied their history but we have dissected their inherent structure to examine the nature of the beast. We have gone further. We have taken out those basic characteristics that contributed to their astounding success and incorporated them into our own religion - CREATIVITY. In short, we have taken several pages out of their book and applied them to our own movement. We make this statement without any reservation or apology. If the enemy has superior weapons that have proven vastly more effective, our policy is not to shun the obvious, but instead to face reality and learn from it. One of the basic ingredients of Judaism is RACIAL LOYALTY. We realize what a key factor this is to any race, movement or organization. Where does your loyalty lie? That is the bottom line. To the average Jew there is never a doubt. It belongs to his race, to Judaism, to Israel, all of which are polarized into one central faith - Judaism. We Creators realize what a powerful motivating force is racial loyalty, and not only have we named our organizational periodical RACIAL LOYALTY, but we preach it repeatedly. Why? Because loyalty to the cause is the first ingredient of success to any movement.

The bottom line is: HOW MUCH DO YOU CARE?

Strangely, whereas his race and historical cohesion is the prime motivating force in the life of the average Jew, the average White Man or Woman is hardly aware that they are the fortunate members of Nature's Elite - the White Race. It is the overwhelming goal of the Church of the Creator to make each and every member of our race intensely aware of this most significant reality and to polarize this awareness into the one and only basic religion of our race. And there is no better way to polarize this awareness than incorporating it into a religious movement. This has worked wonders for the Jews, it has worked wonders for the backward Arabs when polarized under the Moslem religion. It has even worked miracles for the mongrel niggers of America that have embraced their Black Muslim religion. History also has many other lesser examples, but the above will suffice to drive home a point we have been expounding repeatedly, and that is this: The White Race has been fumbling and floundering miserably because it never had a racial religion of its own to rally around, to polarize its tremendous potential, and to inherit the world. Christianity certainly has not done so. On the contrary, it has confused and fragmented the White Race as nothing else in its history.

Now in CREATIVITY we have such a religion to polarize around full blown, comprehensive and complete. We now must organize and polarize all our scattered, confused and polyglot legions around the world. Once we do the Jews and the muds will be a problem of only minor proportions.

So much for polarization. Since I have expounded on this issue repeatedly before, I will not pursue it further in this dissertation. But what about the need for dispersion of organizational units? Isn't this a contradiction of polarization?

No. It is not. Again let us look at the survival of the Jews over the many centuries and learn our lesson.

If you will read again Creative Credo No. 35 in the WHITE MAN'S BIBLE entitled "Unrelenting Warfare Between The Parasitic Jews And Their Unfortunate Victims" you will see that the Jews owe their survival to the fact that they were dispersed ail over the world. But here is the key: Wherever they settled they immediately organized Jewish centers of one kind or another - synagogues, political organizations, defense leagues, or whatever. They all served the cause of their race, helped to inspire racial loyalty and racial cohesion, and made organizational plans for their defense and for the take-over of their enemies. (We must remember that whoever their unsuspecting hosts were, the Jews regarded them as their enemies.)

Now despite the fact that the Jews took all these measures for their own protection, advancement and survival, due to their inherent obnoxiousness, their hosts did discover the dangerous threat posed by these parasites, and repeatedly throughout history turned on them, killed them and/or drove them out.

But - and here again is the key - when driven out of one city, dukedom or country, their racial/religious cohorts were ready to receive them and help them recoup, and in a few years they were not only back, but also in control again of the very country that had expelled them a generation (or less) earlier.

A glaring example in modern history is how Germany drove out the Jews, how they shifted to the United States, utilized the resources of their host country to destroy Germany and in short order were not only back in Germany, but again in full control. When I say full control, there is hardly a country in the world that the Jewish tyranny is more unrestrained than the Jews in wreaking vengeance on their former nemesis.

But we don't need to look at Germany as the only example. If you will read again Creative Credo No. 35 of the White Man's Bible you will find it happening over and over and over.

Their persistent tenacity and survival is basically due to two major tactics: Religious polarization around their race, and secondly dispersion.

We must also learn this lesson thoroughly, and we have. That is why I have been urging repeatedly and persistently that our members wherever possible become ordained ministers and form church groups of their own in their area. This is a must, and it is tremendously important.

I ask you this question (and I am sure it must have crossed your mind): What would happen if our headquarters here in North Carolina got wiped out? It could happen. Would that be the end of our movement?

NO. It need not, it cannot, it must not, and it WILL not. CREATIVITY now represents a powerful idea, a supreme loyalty, a vehicle that is urgently needed for the survival of a great race. Having been spelled out and detailed in our basic books, the idea is now in the hands of tens of thousands of our racial comrades, any one of which, if he or she set their mind to it could (and must) organize their own center and spread it to the rest of the world.

As Voltaire has said "There is nothing as powerful as an idea whose time has come" and for the White Race, the CREATIVITY FORCE is the instrument for its own survival, redemption and resurrection. It is now in the hands of the great White Race, and its own powerful possession.

But to insure its spread and survival, this idea must rapidly be dispersed, mobilized, organized and polarized. The more we do so and the quicker we do so, the more secure will be its survival and the more rapid its expansion.

Just as any Christian preacher can take the Jewish Christian bible and start his own church and build his following and congregation to whatever size he has the energy and ability to accomplish, so, too, can any CREATOR build a church and congregation to any size he aspires, with or without the help of our headquarters. And I strongly urge that every Creator aspire to do just that. The more such local units or groups we have spread out all over the United States. Canada, Europe and all over the world, the stronger, the more secure we will be and the faster the growth of our movement will be. We here at headquarters will do all we can, but this is a massive worldwide movement, and the greater (he effort, the more widespread the participants, the better the results. Remember, we will build this only with massive White Racial teamwork and for this we need you In your area to do your part.

Imperium

Not only must we build a multiplicity of our centers, but we must also develop a multiplicity of effective, competent leaders. This will of course, go hand in hand with the springing up of the thousands of church groups. These must all be coordinated, mobilized and effectively brought into play to bring about WHITE RACIAL TEAMWORK and also as described in Chapter No. 7, Part II of NATURE'S ETERNAL RELIGION. "The Leadership Principle". We must adopt the "wolf pack" system whereby we have a backup of an unlimited supply of leaders ready to serve. If one gets shot down, another is there to take his place. If he too falls, there is another ready to take over.

Such leaders can only come from experience and testing in the field. Only by proving their merits in actually building their own organizations can such leaders be recognized. There must then further be mobilized into a "chain of command", and organized by areas, districts and divisions. In building the SCHOOL FOR GIFTED BOYS we are building the base from which the qualities of future leaders can be identified, oriented and trained. Just as Rome was not built in a day, so our organization, too, will not be built overnight. But time is of the essence and we must push the program into becoming a reality with all deliberate speed. There is one other move that we must make with all deliberate speed and that is the dispersion of huge quantities of our THREE BASIC BOOKS in a multitude of warehouses or storage places all over the country. We must disperse our Inventories in every major city in the country, from Los Angeles to Boston, from Miami to Seattle, and all areas in between.

This, too, is in good keeping with the policy of dispersion, so that no matter where a catastrophe may strike, we have reserves to draw from, not just a handful of storage areas, but hundreds.

We must think big. We may start small but we must think in terms of totality, the whole country, the whole world. We must also plan to have the basic books translated into the major present White languages of the world, German, French, Spanish, Italian, and at least a half dozen others.

The best way to start implementing this dispersion of reserves is for those of our members that have the finances to buy and warehouse several hundred copies, to do so as soon as possible. Write us for special prices on quantities.

Dispersion and Polarization - that is the answer. Let us learn from history, let us above all learn from the history of the Jews. We can do a lot better than they ever could. They are merely a minority of parasites. We are CREATORS who need none of the mud races for our welfare or survival. On the contrary, the sooner we get all the parasites and freeloaders off our backs, the sooner we will be in a position to build that Whiter and Brighter World that is the cherished goal of every Creator.

Also, remember the bottom line, if we don't get our act together, if we don't get the White Race organized, mobilized and polarized the consequences of our criminal negligence will be catastrophic. For a glimpse of our coming fate, read what happened to the defenseless men, women and children that were incinerated at Dresden. Read again the horror story of how the Jews incinerated hundreds of thousands of helpless White men, women and children in a matter of two days. (P. 93 Nature's Eternal Religion, "The Murder of Dresden.") That was not a holyhoax, but a real holocaust, perpetrated mostly on White women and children. A similar fate awaits all of the White Race, either piecemeal, or in a sudden thunderclap. Read again "Let Us Make Hay While The Sun Shines" in the first chapter of this book. Remember - there is no evading or avoiding the issue. We either mobilize our resources and save ourselves from a universal "Dresden" or reap the consequences of our cowardice and negligence.
